

Our host was very warm and hospitable. He is not only a master musician but conveyed his deep love of music and his concern that students in school should be introduced to music, especially classical music. I think he would be able to ~~explain~~ influence children's lives in this respect. Everyone should be exposed to great music even if they don't become music lovers in adulthood.